

SESSION 11- Looking Ahead: Lessons Learned from Tennessee Weather Disasters During a Pandemic Summary

Have you ever wondered if we're getting more weather disasters in Tennessee? During the Covid-19 Pandemic, the state has endured several high impact weather disasters in the last 18 months. During this presentation, Warning Coordination Meteorologist Krissy Hurley from the National Weather Service Office in Nashville, Tennessee will review these events, talk about lessons learned, and answer any weather question your heart desires.